Church Drops All-Church Sports Tourneys

By Gary Wood
Sports Editor

Church officials dropped a stunning surprise in the laps of Church athletes around the world during MIA Conference in June with the announcement that All-Church competition has been eliminated as of September 1, 1971.

No more will triumphant sports teams from the various zones throughout the Church's worldwide organization journey to Salt Lake City at the end of each season to determine who's best in the Church.

No longer will individual and team performers gather together with their families, friends and ward and stake fans to travel to the Church headquarters in the tops of the mountains to unitedly challenge the best worldwide competition under the direction of the Priesthood.

Gone probably forever, also, are All-Church Dance Festivals and other similar MIA activities.

In place of All-Church sports, dance festivals, etc., the church has substituted a new program of Area participation, with each Area comprising several already functioning Zones.

Stakes in the Bay Area, making up the Oakland, San Francisco, Walnut Creek and San Jose Regions as before, are combined into zone 8 in the newly designated Central West Coast Area.

The new Area will consist of zones consisting principally of California Regions from the Mexican border on the south to Redding on the North. Specifically, the Central West Coast Area consists of the following Regions: Fresno, Sacramento, Reno, Burbank, San Fernando, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Los Angeles East, Long Beach, Pomona, San Bernadino, Santa Ana and San Diego.

In athletic competition, Stake winners will compete in Region tournaments, Region champs will go on to Zone play and then to Area competition.

According to Zone 8 Athletic Director Fred Stone of Rodeo, the location of Area playoff competition will rotate among the various Zones. First Area competition will be a basketball tournament in March, with the site and other details remaining to be worked out among the Zone athletic directors of the new Area.

The new operation was decided upon by the First Presidency during a special temple meeting, and hinged apparently on long-time efforts by the General Authorities to decentralize the Church, to more fully establish the Church as a worldwide organization and not a Salt Lake City religion.

Other considerations, according to Director Stone, were increasing extent of travel, expense and other aspects of getting athletes and teams to Salt Lake Valley from all parts of the world.

"I think it will be a great program when it really gets going," Stone expressed. "The principles of the athletic program are unchanged, and I'm sure that the athletes will view

El Cerrito

Having met all necessary requirements, Keith Hellwig, son of Donna and Eugene Hellwig of our ward, was presented with a Duty to God Award by First Counselor, Joel Parker at Sacrament Meeting on July 11th. We of the El Cerrito Ward join with Keith's parents in being proud of him for his faithfulness in Church attendance and participation in the Church activities.

At this same meeting, talks were given by Hal and Pam Hess who will depart with their five children August 13th for Hawaii, where Brother Hess is to continue his career with the Coast Guard. After their talks and a vocal duet sung by the Hesses in English and Hawaiin, the congregation joined in singing "Aloha Oe" to the departing members. We look forward to their promised return at some future date and wish them health, happiness and blessings in their new home in Hawaii.

Children blessed this month were: Rebecca Margaret blessed by her father, Perry Carter; Zina blessed by her father, Howard Tracy Hall; Kevin James Foster blessed by Joel Parker, and David John Gold blessed by Leslie M. Pugmire.

Members set apart this month for various duties are: Jean Boring, Primary Worker; Karen Knisely, Primary in-service Leader; Sidne and Leonard O'Reilly as Leaders, Young Marrieds; Alice Pruett, Homemaking Counselor in the Relief Society and Mary Wallmann as Sunday School Organist.

Daly City

By Corinne N. O'Neal

Vacationtime in Vacationland.

..WITH DC members visiting in Hawaii and continental Europe - and all across the United States and Canada. Somehow, and for some reason, it seems that the magnetic interest greatly goes in the direction of - Salt Lake City.

Recently the DC MIA young ladies went on an "art" tour. This activity took them downtown to the San Francisco Museum of Art - where, for the most part, they found that amateur and mod art was not much to their liking - especially the cut-away car hoods and other car crushed and manipulated parts. It did, however, evoke an active interest to visit other art galleries - which will be placed on the activity agenda.

As one girl remarked, "Why is everything depicted so ugly - when there is so much beauty all around!"

It was an educational, plus fun, evening ... but the activity brought about an unanswered question, "What is a "tooth trip"? - a sign observed on a building nearby the Museum.

Our young Marrieds have been kept active thanks to the efforts of Ron and Marjean Frogget. On July 16, they held a Fireside at the Ray Shates home. J. R. Nelson was the speaker. He spoke on the subject of success. He pointed out that we should look more often at our successes. Each couple brought their favorite salad and, surprisingly enough, none were duplicated.

The Explorers have been kept busy too. Their most recent activity was a trip to Paradise where they hiked back to a swimming hole. Charles Thompson took them. Their next event will be a trip down Sacramento River on truck inner tubes hooked together with a 5 hp motor at the tail. Fun? Well, you can't deny, exciting!

When space allows, I would like to include a "get acquainted" paragraph. This month, I would like to feature Paul Cooper. Many members are not aware of Paul's special talents. Paul's interests include a spectacular knowledge of reptiles, etc. He is a paid lecturer and his talents are used all over Contra Costa County in schools, clubs, etc. He works at Alexander Lindsay Junior Museum where he has access to many of these "animals". He has his own collection at home. In fact his private collection has grown so much that he has had to move some of them to the Museum. His private collection includes boa constrictors, regal python, rat snakes, king snakes, gopher snakes, bengal monitor, tegu, dragon, gila monster, turtles, tortoises, and an iguana. I invite members to get acquainted with Paul and find out what a really fine young man he is.

New Tennis Champs In Eastbay Event

There were some new faces in the winners' circle of this year's Eastbay Church tennis tournament, held at Concord's Diablo Valley College in June.

Last year the tournament was dominated by Don Larson and his son Doug of Hayward Stake. This year, however, it was a slightly different story.

The senior Larson teamed with Mrs. Daryl Crawford to win the Mixed Doubles event, and, together with his son, tied for first place in the Men's Doubles Event with Monte Jarman and Chet Howard of Fremont Stake.

However, it was reported that Doug suffered a broken leg in the playoff match and the Larson duo was forced to default to the Fremont team.

In Men's Singles competition, Richard Bovo of Walnut Creek Stake defeated all challengers, and Roger Pickett, also of Walnut Creek Stake, was victorious in the Boys 17-and-under category.

In 1970, Doug Larson was winner in the 14-and-under division of the combined Oakland-Walnut Creek Region unofficial tennis tourney, his father was champ of the Over-35 competition, and together they clinched the Parent-Youth title.

Lack of insufficient entries in this year's tournament, due largely to ineffective spreading of the word by athletic directors, forced cancellation of several planned divisions of the tourney.

The All-Church tennis championships this year were held July 7-10 in Salt Lake City. The Eastbay tournament was not an elimination event prior to All-Church, as all tennis enthusiasts were invited to participate in Salt Lake City.

Eleven Zone Golfers Go To Salt Lake

By Gary Wood
Sports Editor

Eleven top golfers from the Bay Area will represent Zone 3 in the very last All-Church golf tournament August 4-6 in Salt Lake City.

The near-dozen linksters emerged as the best of the zone during the annual championship tournament held July 17 at J.F. Kennedy Park in Napa.

For the second straight year, 14-year-old Mark Tinder of Pacific Grove Ward, Monterey Bay Stake, proved himself champ of the 18-and-under division. He shot a 76, followed by Jorty Clements, 80; Bruce Anderson, 86; and Bob Hulme, 86. Three of the four will enter the All-Church tourney.

In the senior division (19-54 years of age), Rick Sonne carded a 72 to earn medalist honors for the tournament. Following were Larry Holman, 76; Lee Robinson, 77; John Peterson, 77; Tom Jensen, 78; and Arch Madsen, 78. Five of the six will make the journey to All-Church.

Jensen is defending All-Church champ, after finishing third in Zone 3 last year.

In the veterans division (over 54), William Naylor was champ with an 83, followed by Keith Worley, 90; and Howard Tanner, 92.

In special contests held in conjunction with the zone tourney, Rod Badger won a prize for coming closest to the cup on the designated seventh hole. Glen Morris won the longest drive contest. Chuck Hull and Ned Clyde tied at 70 for the handicap division (net score) title, and Lyle Winter finished first in the Calloway System compeition with a 70.

In 1970, the zone was represented in the All-Church tournament by Tinder (zone winner), Badger, Robison (zone winner), Jensen, Naylor (zone winner) and Worley.

Of the 81 entrants in this year's zone tourney, 45 took home a prize, according to tournament chairman John Lundall.

Next event on the Bay Area church golfing agenda is the next in a continuing series of monthly tournaments for golfers in the Oakland and Walnut Creek Regions--namely, Fremont, Hayward, Oakland-Berkeley, San Leandro, Concord, Napa, Santa Rose, Walnut Creek and Marin Stakes.

The September tourney will be at the Tilden Park course in Berkeley September 18. To enter, contact tournament chairman Ken Driggs, P.O. Box 143, Hayward.

Those who have played in the monthly event will be interested to know that a handicapping chart is being established especially for participants of the series.

"We feel that the establishment of handicapping will make our series of tournaments more interesting and more fair than in the past," commented Lundall, a golfing pro. "The system will allow Church golfers who don't belong to a club to establish a handicap of their own."

Four Zone Softball Teams To Earn All-Church Berths

Four teams will prove themselves the cream of the Northern California Church softball crop the first week in August as the summer-long competition draws to a close in Zone 3. The triumphant foursome of softball squads will go on to compete in the All-Church Championships in Salt Lake City.

When the dust clears from the championship tournament, four softball teams will represent Zone 3 in each of four categories: junior and senior slow pitch, and junior and senior fast pitch.

The zone slow pitch playoffs between the Eastbay and Westbay Regions will be held Saturday, August 7, at Patrick Gomer Field in Hayward, with the junior teams taking the field at 7 p.m. and the senior teams squaring off at 8:30 p.m.

There will be a two-part playoff to determine zone fast pitch winners. On Friday, August 6, it will be Eastbay versus Westbay, with junior teams slated for 7 p.m. and senior teams for 8:30 p.m. The two victorious squads must travel to Sacramento the following day to meet two teams from that region.

Last year's zone representatives to the All-Church tournament were: El Cerrito-Berkeley Ward, junior slow pitch; Cupertino Ward, senior slow pitch; Walnut Creek II Ward, junior fast pitch; and San Jose Tenth Ward, senior fast pitch.

El-Cerrito- -Berkeley went on to the championship game of the All-Church tournament, losing out by a lone run.

Region championships throughout Zone 3 were determined in playoffs during the final days of July this year, and the Oakland-Walnut Creek combined regional finals are scheduled for Thursday, August 5, at Bret Harte Field, with junior slow pitch teams to meet at 6:30 p.m., senior fast pitch at 8 p.m. and senior slow pitch at 9:30 p.m.

CONCORD STAKE QUARTERLY CONFERENCE
By Boots Barrus

Saints of the Concord Stake convened in the Inter-Stake Center for their quarterly Conference in June. President Ted E. Madsen served as the presiding authority and welcomed all who were present. He was preceded by numbers presented the Concord Stake's Primary Chorus which consisted of approximately 110 young voices whose music lent a spiritual and reverent attitude for the conference to follow. Business conducted by Pres. Raymond Evansen was as follows: Priesthood advancements: Vern Conley, Louise Hill, Richard Beaman, Paul Costello, Gale Westover, John Williams, Louise Hill, Robert Haut, David Duke, Steven Mortenson and Eric Youngberg, Elders; Bro. Lonnie Thacker, High Priest. Released from the Stake Mission Secretary position was Richard Towne and called to serve was Bro. Loren Welches. Bro. Kent Payne was released as a High Councilman, and Robert Warnock as Alternate. New appointments were Bro. Robert Warnock as High Councilman with Bro. John Reading as Alternate; Bro. Lonnie Don Thacker was called as Counselor in the Oak Grove Bishopric replacing Bro. Reading.

For his special message to the congregation of the Stake, President Madsen spoke of the importance of the Bishops and their callings. He stressed that the Bishop is one chosen as a prophet for he alone holds the keys and that he should sit in the firvers seat and that each ward congregation should uphold the Bishop chosen to preside and allow no evil speaking of him. He then introduced each of the eleven Bishops of the Concord Stake: Bishops Rex Ivie, Antioch, Vicot Hansen, C.V., Gomer J. Arnold, C.V. 2, Lynn Blatter, Concord, Reed Call, Concord 2, DeVon Jensen, Con. 3, Grant Shaw, Martinez, Gerald Thompson, Oakgrove, Orlande Heaton, Oakgrove 2, Charlie Peters, Pittsburg, and James J. Gautier, Ygnacio Valley.

Island barbecue. They enjoyed such sports as baseball, volleyball, football, horseshoes and frisbie. The event was sponsored by the Elders' Quorum.

The MIA has been busy with camping trips for both young men and women. Eight girls attended a one week stake camp at Liahona and came back with a trophy for "Best Kitchen Helpers." The explorers just returned from their trip to Island Park, Idaho where all the boys caught fish and water skiied in some very cold water.

Trent Keys opened his home in Sausilito to the young marrieds for their most recent party. Trent made fabulous sloppy joes which were eagerly devoured along with other picnic goodies. The group then watched movies about what San Francisco was like in early days.

Three new babies have recently been born into the ward. Dennis and Janie George are the proud parents of a son, Donald William. Bob and Kathy Evans welcomed their second son, Scott Ryan. Bishop and Sara Newell are the most recent new parents. Sara gave birth to a tiny girl named Rachel Sara.

Balboa

by Bill Marquardt

Balboa Ward members commerated Pioneer Day with a pot luck picnic July 24th in San Bruno Park. The food and entertainment were supplied by various ward priesthood and auxiliary organizations. At the picnic, a major item of conversation was the various strikes that affected them.

On July 4th long weekend, 36 members of a group of young single adults calling themselves the Pamplemoose Family and their families went camping, played games, went sightseeing and enjoyed themselves near Mendicino. Melvin Wilcox of the ward bishopric provided spiritual leadership.

The Primary summer recess closing party in mid-July featured a puppet parade; the tergeteer class (8-9 yr. age), whose teacher is Patt Scott provided special games and costumes.

Walnut Creek

ELDER'S QUORUM: The Elders Quorum had a "super duper" picnic-party at Tilden Park on Friday, June 4th. Steve Granquist was in charge of the food. Each person brought his own meat, but cole slaw, potato salad, cookies, doughnuts and soda pop were provided by the Quorum. Don Linderholm handled recreation which consisted of volleyball, football, and "Frisbies." About 40 people attended. This was a GOOD party, with beautiful weather.

THE BOY SCOUT Rummage sale, held on Saturday, June 19th was a rousing success due to the generosity of the ward members...Some $360.00 was added to the very low scout treasury. The money will go toward buying some very much needed scout equipment. Our special thanks go to Gary Chase of "Creative Glass" at 1177 Boulevard Way, for letting us use his facilities.

The BEEHIVE softball team finished up the season in 2nd place in the stake, but the Juniors did well enough to be going to the regionals. The girls on the Beehive team are Kathy WILDE, Andrea WALLACE, Jill GELMING, Kathy OSBORN, Nancy OSBORN, Julann JEFFRIES, Liz JEFFERIES, Neva PRATT, Carol WAGNER, Robin SMITH, Nancy ARAY, and Julie ROWLAND. The Juniors are Pam ANDERBERG, Colette BROWN, Katy MC CARTHY, Lisa PARDINI, Sue SMITH, Belinda WILDE, Diane WILDE, and Linda STORGES.

Priesthood advancements at the recent Stake Conference were two men ordained to Elder, from our ward, Arthur Hutchins and John (Irv) Rands.

Local Youth Pick Pineapples In Hawaii

One hundred boys each from Sacramento, Walnut Creek, Fremont, and the San Jose Areas, and two hundred boys from Salt Lake are earning their bread and butter picking pineapples in Hawaii on the island of Lanai.

They have free time to work on merit badges as well as enjoy the beaches occasionally, when they are not working the day shift or night shift. Sundays these six hundred boys have their own church services with Church leaders from the boys' home areas.

Oakland 3rd

By Charlotte H. Smith

Sr. Mary Westover, a faithful ward member who has spent many years working with the Dr's. at Highland Hospital, was presented with a special award. This was for the many years of unselfish support of the community of physicians in their striving for educational excellence and emprovement of traditional high standards and patient care. This outstanding award is the only one that has ever been given to anyone who has not held an M.D.

Eugene and Marxine Earl have moved from our ward to Napa after 13 years residing in Oakland 3rd Ward. Gene was the Executive Secretary and Marxine has helped in several organizations and done secretarial work for many. We will miss them but wish them well in their new homes.

Edward Collins was sustained as the new Executive Secretary upon the release of Gene Earl. He was previously the assistant secretary.

There have been some changes this past month. Dwight Hearst was sustained as Deacon Advisor, Henry (Hank) Brown is the new Teacher Advisor, Roy Patche was sustained as the Division Leader with Ray Walton as his 2nd Counselor and Larry Cooke as Secretary in the Adult Aaronic group. John Borsis is the new Priesthood Assistant Secretary to Youth and Kim Everingham was advanced to the office of Teacher. These men are recent converts to the church. We congratulate them.

The son of Herbert and Barbara Hilton was blessed this past month. Herb is a former Oakland 3rd ward member and son of Gene and Joyce Hilton.

We have heard from Elder Douglas Higham and he has been named District Leader in his area in the state of Washington and enjoying his work.

Theresa Medizer and Marcia Ann Smith have been transferred by the telephone company back to Provo, Utah.

the new setup with the same spirit of keen competition as with All-Church."

Rossberg, Oakland-Walnut Creek Region Athletic Director, agrees. "Of course, it's exciting to go to All-Church, but this new arrangement could very well develop into the same type of championship situation as All-Church has been."

If some have been disappointed with the drastic change in the decision about All-Church, one segment of Church manhood received a pleasant booster to counteract the sad news.

The segment consists of basketball enthusiasts who happen to be past 30 years of age, or approaching it. After about a decade, Church officials have decided to change the ruling prohibiting those over 30 from competing in the hoop sport.

Beginning this fall, there will be three age classifications for basketball (there are no age changes in the other sports: 18 and under, 19-25, and 26 and over.

As before, if there is no "junior" team in a ward, then athletes in the lower age division can play for a team in the next highest age classification. In some instances, there may be just one team representing a ward, in which case players of any age (over 12) can play on the team.

However, players 26 and over cannot play beyond Region competition. A team with any player 26 and over will not be able to play in Zone and area tournaments.

Mormon Notes

THE SOCIAL GOSPEL

"He also knew that hopes had to be reborn and that this is what life is all about."

Norman Cousins

I was half asleep in my bed the other morning when I heard my roommate, Harry Johnson, mumble something from the bathroom. "You just tickle me," he said.

I rolled over, opened one eye, and inspected Harry down the hall in the bathroom. He was shaving and looking at himself in the mirror. "You just tickle me," he said again.

I got out of bed, scratched my belly-button, and strolled down the hall. "What's going on here, Harry?" I asked.

"Murgle muff?" he said through his shaving cream.

"What's this 'You just tickle me' business?"

"Oh, that. That's what Linda said to me yesterday morning."

I knew that Harry was supposed to be going with Lady X, and not Linda. Therefore, there must be trouble between Harry and Lady X. Better drop it, I thought to myself, and headed back to bed.

"She's nine years old,,' he said. "She's the little girl I tutor on Saturday mornings."

The University Ward in the Oakland-Berkeley Stake has been running a pilot tutorial project for children in recent months. About twenty to twenty-five children from the poorer sections of town have been involved. John Rogers, bachelor lawyer for University Ward who headed up the program, estimates that about fifty per cent of the children are black. About thirty per cent are chicano, and the rest white. About twenty members of the University Ward have served as volunteer tutors. Harry led the Saturday morning sessions. Other sessions were held on week-nights. All of the sessions emphasized reading skills (there was a presumption that all of the tutors knew how to read).

The project was initially suggested last Winter by Nancy Moordigian, of the Ward, and with the support of the Ward's Bishopric, particularly Bishop Jensen, a small group began looking for facitities and for contacts with the community. Dr. Foster, black educator and school superintendent for the Oakland School District, and Mr. Waxman, principal of Garfield School in Oakland, were among others who gave their support to the program. Although some churches in the ghetto areas had offered their facilities for such programs, Rogers and Moordigfian decided to work through the Volunteer Bureau of the School District. Accordingly, sessions were set up using classrooms at Garfield and at Lazear Elementary School.

The goal in tutoring is, first, to get two stubborn and suspicious minds to take each other seriously. Imagine big, dour Harry coming at little, frail Linda. Why, the hair on her head stood on end! A rhinoceros could as easily gain the confidence of a duck, ostensibly to teach the thing how to read Sylvester The Cat. Worse, the significance of the situation is seen entirely differently by the two participants: while the tutor sees it as a great step forward in man's ultimate victory over the forces of darkness, the child thinks of it as more like eating liver. Besides the child darkly wondering what you're up to, what if the little tyke has a suspicious mother? I tutored a girl once whose mother never did swallow the story that I was a tutor and would just as soon I stayed away from her daughter. "And thus," wrote Thomas Bracken, "Men rise and fall and live and die. Not understood."

Harry isn't sure he taught Linda anything, but by the end of the eight weeks Linda had pretty well decided that she'd never seen anyone quite so funny as Harry.

"She sees right through me," says Harry. "She knows I'm just a bag of hot air. But she also knows that I'm bigger than she is and she'd just better sit still and listen."

Boy Diving Through Moss

A boy with joy and fear inside stood on the plank
above the pond.
He sensed the cold, dark water underneath,
and, daring,
was aware of that which he must do.
He dived and fell
and felt the wetted cold.
He felt the mosses part and give his plunging body to the depths.
And on the edge of there he bent his back and forced the arced re-entry up, and, shattering the surface,
took the first moist breath of air and felt the new pure light about his head.

Oh, sweetest grin!
To know the leap from life through death
and into life again.

Golden Gate Saints

A History of the Church In Northern California ...Part 17

Justus Swanson for a long period was president of the San Francisco Branch, while Norman B. Phillips led the Oakland Branch for 23 years.

Stony Soil

The soil of the Lord's vineyard ws stony in the Bay area for a quarter century. Mormonism was definitely an unnpopular religion, and most of those who embraced it tried to migrate to Utah, to gather at Zion. It was not until after World War I that the "gathering" of Zion was emphasized as a concept of brotherhood coming together throughout the world, rather than the literal congregating in Utah. The limited area of tillable land in that state was long exhausted, opportunities limited; the Saints were exporting their young people, many of them as teachers, to the outside world, where they made an excellent impression. Added to this was the expansion and boom of California following World War I, plus the fact that for the first time since the Church was founded in 1830 its people were acceptable in Gentile environments.

An era of friendship and good feeling prevailed. After 90 years, Mormonism had at last achieved respectability, though it still was far from fashionable, as its members on the California frontier held meetings in rented halls, without robes or vestments, no pageantry or trappings, no icons, no candles, its leaders plain people chosen from the congregation without training other than practical experience.

San Francisco Stake

To a great many people the most memorable event of 1927 was the closing down of the world's greatest assembly line by Henry Ford as he stopped production of the fabulous Model T to re-tool for the Model A (and in so doing lost the lead to Chevrolet). But to California Mormons the great event of that year was the purpose of three men who arrived at Oakland Pier on July 9th. Elders Rudger Clawson and George Albert Smith of the Twelve, and Joseph W. McMurrin, president of the California Mission, had arrived to create San Francisco Stake.

Perhaps knowing something of the rivalry between San Francisco and Oakland, the brethren held a meeting that evening in the San Francisco Branch chapel proposing the formation of the stake, then the following day held meetings at the Oakland Branch chapel to consummate it. W. Aird MacDonald became president, J. Edward Johnson and Clyde W. Lindsay counselors, Reed S. Gardner clerk.

Ten wards comprised San Francisco Stake, Oakland, Richmond, Elmhurst, Diamond, Berkeley, Martinez, San Francisco, Sunset, Mission and Daly City.
